3. C'est l'anniversaire de ton ami Lily bientôt ; elle t'envoie un texto :

It's your friend Lily's birthday soon; she sends you a text message:

Hi Katie,
 I'm having a birthday party Saturday, April 9th at my house. You are invited! Would you like to come? It will be fun! We are going to play games like pin the tail on the donkey, musical chairs and hide and seek. I invited our entire class. Could you bring some ice tea and cookies? The party starts at half past two. My house is not far from our school: 1019 W Washington Street. My house has a red front door. Look for the balloons!
 Hope you can come and see you soon,
 Lily

My name is India Opal Buloni, and last summer my daddy the preacher sent me to the store for a box of macaroni and cheese, some white rice and two tomatoes, and I came back with a dog. This is what happened: I walked into the produce section of the Winn-Dixie grocery store to pick out my two tomatoes and I almost bumped right into the store manager. He was standing there all red faced, screaming and waving his arms around.

“Who let a dog in here?” he kept on shouting, “ Who let a dirty dog in here?”

At first, I didn’t see a dog. There were just a lot of vegetables rolling around on the floor, tomatoes and onions and green peppers. And there was what seemed like a whole army of Winn-Dixie employees running around waving their arms just the same way the store manager was waving his.

And then the dog came running around the corner. He was a big dog. And ugly. And he looked like he was having a real good time. His tongue was hanging out and he was wagging his tail. He skidded to a stop and smiled right at me. I had never before in my life seen a dog smile, but this is what he did. He pulled back his lips and showed me all his teeth. Then he wagged his tail so hard that he knocked some oranges off a display and they went rolling everywhere, mixing in with the tomatoes and onions and green peppers.

The manager screamed, “Somebody grab that dog!”

The dog went running over to the manager, wagging his tail and smiling. He stood up on his hind legs. You could tell that all he wanted to do was get face to face with the manager and thank him for the good time he was having in the produce department, but somehow he ended up knocking the manager over. And the manager must have been having a bad day because, lying there on the floor, right in front of everybody, he started to cry. The dog leaned over him, real concerned, and licked his face.

“ Please,” said the manager, “ somebody call the pound.”

“ Wait a minute!” I hollered. “ That’s my dog. Don’t call the pound.”

Hello! My name is Jack, how are you? I'm so happy you're coming to stay with my family!

Nice to meet you too! I'm 12, how old are you? Do you have any brothers or sisters?

Ok! I'm an only child, but I have lots of pets: a dog called Winston, two parrots, and a turtle! My parents love the outdoors: going to the beach, walking in the park, camping in the mountains. I really like to read and draw, so I always take my books and markers with me. Tell me more about you!

Listen, I want to make sure you enjoy your stay with us, what do you like to eat?

Yummy! That's my favourite too! Well, I have to go now, see you soon.
